Jeffco International Women's Day is an official, registered event with the global International Women's Day organization.

Wheat Ridge Business Association members can participate with:

- a Vendor Table ($25 or $35),
- by donating a door prize

- individual tickets at WRBA reduced prices purchased before Feb. 14

Deadline to participate is February 14, number of participants is limited, and is handled on first-come, first-served basis.

By participating, merchants will have be offered several promotional opportunities for their business before the event on March 8. These opportunities are based on how soon commitments to participate are secured. Earlier the better!

International Women's Day, always on March 8, is a globally observed day of recognition of the history, contributions and plight of women around the world. This is the fourth year that International Women's Day has been celebrated in Jefferson County, Colorado. In many countries around the world, this is a day when women are recognized for their achievements without regard to divisions, whether national, ethnic, linguistic, cultural, economic, or political. International Women's Day first emerged at the turn of the twentieth century in North America, and across Europe, and the first time it was observed nationally in the U.S. was in 1909.
