About the Project

The North System Renewal Project involves installing the new Northwater Pipeline, a 66-inch diameter pipeline replacing one of the two existing pipelines running 8.5 miles between Ralston Reservoir and the Moffat Treatment Plant. When finished, the system will be more resilient and adaptable to changing demands for water now and into the future.

Safety First

Denver Water is committed to maintaining safe worksites, and mitigating noise, dust, traffic and other construction impacts on our neighbors. We aim to reduce delays and inconvenience and communicate well in advance so commuters, residents and neighbors can plan accordingly.
